

Mathematics

Continue to count from 1-20!

Draw a number line using chalk outside (don't worry this washes off!). Or you could maybe write numbers on a piece of paper and make a line. Jump up and down the number line and shout the number that you land on. Why don't you throw a ball or a small rock and shout which number it lands on? Can you think of a number which is bigger than 5? Can you think of a number which is smaller than 20?

Adding 2 digits together

Miss Allison has some super maths sentences for you. Can you read the number and count how many altogether?

$1 + 3 =$

$2 + 2 =$

$4 + 5 =$

Literacy

Lets have a think about a beautiful butterfly! I love butterflies, do you? I love the colours on their wings and when they sit on my flowers.

Do you know what a Butterfly used to be? A Caterpillar!

Have a listen to this story: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=75NQK-Sm1YY>

In the story the Caterpillar was so hungry! He ate for days and days and was STILL hungry!

This week you need to write a food diary for the Caterpillar so he can remember what he has eaten. Can you write what the caterpillar eats every day? You can think of new foods for the caterpillar to eat! Miss Allison has wrote one for you on the next page to help you! Don't forget the days of the week!

Can you read this super sentence? Get your grown up to read the red words.

the caterpillar is fat. he eats lots. he is green. his face is red. he has lots of legs.

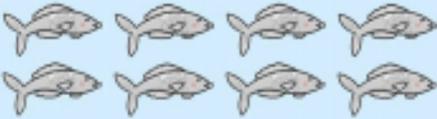

Discussion

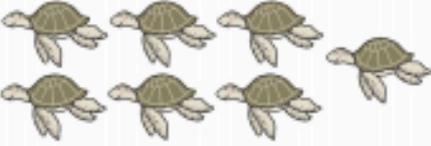

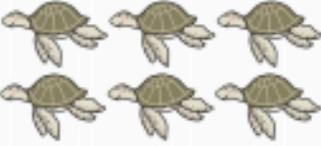

If were a Butterfly or a Bee, where would you fly to? What would you see in the sky? What would you see on the ground below?

I would be a Pink and Yellow Butterfly. I would fly to Italy. I would see fast aeroplanes and listen to the whoosh sound. I would see the cars and the people on the ground.

What did the Caterpillar eat each day?

On Monday, he had 1 apple.

On Tuesday, he had 2 plums.

On Wednesday, he had 3 slices of pizza.

On Thursday, he had 4 strawberries.

On Friday, he had 5 slices of cheese.

On Saturday, he had 6 milkshakes.

On Sunday, he had a tummy ache!

Can you write your own? I can't wait to see them 😊 Send your fantastic writing to enquiries@st-michaels.school.
